

BIO

Helen Dardik

Helen Dardik is a pattern designer, an illustrator, a painter and a toy maker. She is based in Canada and represented by the Lilla Rogers Studio.

Helen was born in Ukraine, she grew up in Siberia, finished art school in Israel and completed a graphic design degree in Canada. Best friends with Adobe Illustrator and Photoshop, they helped sustain Helen's addiction to making patterns, editorial illustrations, book covers, cards, and other printed materials. Her work is a combination of retro whimsy and modern fun, full of color, texture and pattern.

Among Helen's clients are: Target, Hasbro, BlueQ, KLUTZ, Walter Fosters Publishing, Boston Globe, Harper Collins Publishing, Nick Jr., Fisher Price, Hanes, and others.

Helen has three young daughters and very little free time. Mod Kitchen is her first fabric collection.
